Why choose for Lithuanian products and services?

The Lithuanian printing and publishing sector transformed during the past two decades from state operated entities into modern printing and publishing houses, competing with each other domestically and increasingly offering their services to customers abroad.

Lithuanian printing and publishing companies are equipped with modern Japanese and German printing technology, enabling them to provide a wide range of high-quality printing and publishing services.

Combined with the relatively low labor costs, Lithuanian printing and publishing companies are able to offer attractive price-quality ratios for their services.

Lithuanian printing and publishing companies are flexible and have the ability to react fast and efficient to changing market circumstances. This gives them also the ability to fulfill custom made and expedited orders. The flexibility of Lithuanian companies is reflected as well in the cooperation with foreign customers by providing the whole service, from preprinting to printing and postprinting).

Lithuania has an advantageous geographical location accessing big markets (Russia, Scandinavia), even with products which require very operative delivery.
